

Strong Plank Urged

By The Associated Press
GOV. NELSON A. Rockefeller of New York called Monday for a stiff civil rights plank in the Republican platform.

He urged that it pledge a ban on racial discrimination in any business operating under federal license such as airlines and radio and TV stations.

Rockefeller told a crowded news conference in Chicago the GOP civil rights plank should "go even further" than the Fair Employment Practices Commission plan adopted by the Democrats in Los Angeles last week.

Genuine Draft

And, Rockefeller said, the platform should indorse the sit-in demonstrations against segregation in lunch counters in the South.

Rockefeller, chief voice of dissent in top GOP ranks, repeated he would accept a "genuine draft" for the presidential nomination, but "positively, absolutely" would not accept the vice presidential nomination.

He defined a "genuine draft" as one in which more than half of the convention delegates voted for him.

Before Rockefeller's arrival in Chicago, GOP Chairman Thruston B. Morton said that "outside of New York, I haven't seen much strength for drafting Rockefeller." He said he would not "badger" the governor to accept the No. 2 spot on the ticket.

Accused Kennedy

Morton forecast a hard-hitting election campaign. If it sinks to a low level, he said, the Democrats will rest with the Democrats.

He accused the Democratic nominee, Sen. John F. Kennedy of making a "vicious personal attack" on Vice President Richard M. Nixon in his acceptance speech at Los Angeles last week. He said Kennedy's criticism of Nixon was "completely undocumented."

Kennedy, resting up in Hyannis Port, Mass., interrupted his vacation long enough to start peace moves among warring Democratic factions.

He named an old friend from World War II days, William F. Battle, executive director of his campaign in Virginia. Pierre Salinger, Kennedy's press secretary, said a campaign director would be named for each of the 50 states.

At Odds

Salinger said Kennedy hopes Battle, son of former Virginia Gov. John S. Battle, will work closely with Sen. Harry F. Byrd and Gov. J. Lindsay Almond, who have been at odds, mostly over Byrd's proposal for "massive resistance" to public school desegregation.

First Losses Reported By U. N. Forces

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP) — The United Nations African force was reported to have suffered its first losses in fighting with Congolese in two cities of the new African republic Monday.

The victims were Moroccan members of the U. N. peace force. The Belgian radio said mutinous native troops at Thysville fired on the Moroccans and killed several.

A second report said a separate Moroccan detachment engaged in fierce fighting with Congolese at the port city of Matadi, near the mouth of the Congo River, and there were casualties on both sides.

This report, telephoned from the village of Noqui on the border of Portuguese Angola, said the U. N. troops entered the big Congo port city but had not succeeded in occupying Matadi harbor, a center of continued labor unrest and violence since independence was granted by Belgium June 30.

Accepts Ike Terms

NEWPORT, R. I. (AP) — President Eisenhower offered Monday to supply secret security information to Sen. John F. Kennedy and Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson but only for their personal knowledge exclusively.

Kennedy immediately accepted for himself and Johnson. The President's message appeared to rule out the possibility of Kennedy, Democratic presidential nominee, and Johnson, his vice presidential running mate, sharing the data with their advisers.

Kennedy originally had suggested the information be relayed to him through Adlai E. Stevenson and Rep. Chester Bowles (D-Conn.) as his liaison representatives on foreign policy.

U. N. Units Move Swiftly To Avert Congo's Threats

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (AP) — The U. N. command moved swiftly Monday to avert an international crisis stemming from the Congo's threat to call in Soviet troops if Belgian forces refuse to leave by Tuesday.

U. N. undersecretary Ralph J. Bunche met with the Congo Cabinet to discuss the three-day ultimatum handed over Sunday by Premier Patrice Lumumba in Stanleyville. Deputy Premier Antoine Gizenga presided in Lumumba's absence.

Passenger Train Plows Into Truck

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — The Milwaukee Road's Hiawatha passenger train plowed into a semi-trailer truck and derailed with grinding violence Monday, injuring between 30 and 40 persons.

All escaped critical injury, however, and the truck driver—who had "a feeling of death as the train came at me" — was unscathed.

A half dozen cars of the 13-car Chicago-bound train jackknifed as they hurtled through the crossing near suburban St. Paul Park after the diesel units smashed into the truck.

Most of the cars remained upright although off the tracks. Other cars and four diesel units flipped on their sides.

150 Passengers
Among the some 150 passengers was Mahalia Jackson, noted Negro spiritual singer, who was not injured. She and two companions were riding in a drawing room, one of the cars that did not overturn.

The train hit the truck at 1:10 p.m. just as the trailer cab, occupied by Robert Kensler, 31, St. Paul, had crossed the tracks.

"I didn't see the train when I started across," he said.

The trailer section of the truck was demolished. The cab remained upright on the road, untouched.

A railroad official said the Hiawatha normally travels between 50 and 60 miles an hour at that point.

U. S. Denies Charge Labeling Castro As Red

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — Cuba accused the United States Monday of trying to pin a Communist label on Fidel Castro's revolutionary government. The United States denied the charge, but warned that no alien power would be permitted to establish a beachhead in the Western Hemisphere.

The exchange took place at a tense meeting of the 11-nation Security Council, called at the request of Cuba to air charges that the United States had invoked a policy of economic aggression against the Castro regime.

The council was expected to take the immediate heat out of the situation by approving an Argentine-Ecuadorian resolution tossing the dispute to the Organization of American States, and pointedly warning "all other states" to refrain from aggravating Cuban-U. S. relations.

Belgium Limits Troops

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld said Monday Belgium has agreed to limit her troop activities in the Congo and to place Belgian forces partially under U. N. command.

The secretary-general told the Security Council that discussions on the withdrawal of Belgian forces are continuing. There was no indication as to whether he had asked for their withdrawal or whether he had received any word when this might be expected.

The U. N. announced Monday night that two officials of the Congo were coming here to appear before the Council. That new-born republic has demanded repeatedly that Belgian troops get out and has threatened to ask for Soviet troops if they do not.

Not U. N. Members

A spokesman said a message from the Congo reported that Thomas Kanza, "minister delegate to the U. N.," and Andre Mandil, secretary of state for foreign affairs, were enroute by plane and would arrive late Tuesday. The Congo is not yet a U. N. member but is expected to be admitted by the General Assembly this fall.

The spokesman said that the Council probably would delay 'till Wednesday a meeting to consider Hammarskjöld's report, so that the Congolese could take part.

Hammarskjöld's report was his first to the 11-nation Council since it gave him a mandate early Thursday to set up a U. N. force. He had called for an early Council meeting to take up the report. The Soviet Union had already done so Saturday.

He reported that the U. N. up to Sunday night had 3,500 troops in the Congo and that the build-up was continuing rapidly.

"The arrival of the troops of the United Nations force in Leopoldville," he said, "has already had a salutary effect and the growing recognition of its role as a force for the restoration of peace and order will contribute to its increasing effectiveness."

Units Arrive

Contingents have arrived from Ethiopia, Ghana, Morocco and Tunisia, he said.

Hammarskjöld talked with Belgium's permanent U. N. representative, Walter Loridan, and later with Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily Kuznetsov.

Whether they discussed the question of Belgian troop withdrawals was not known. The Soviet Union has caused some concern among African diplomats have by threats to intervene unless Belgian forces get out under a 72-hour ultimatum delivered Sunday.

Hammarskjöld did not indicate whether or not the U. N. had directly asked Belgium to withdraw its troops, as the Congo government has demanded.

He said, however, the Belgian authorities have agreed to limit Belgian military intervention to the security needs of Belgian nationals. In all other matters, it was said, Belgian forces will abide by instructions of the U. N. commander.

White House Denies Wasp Aid Belgians

NEWPORT, R. I. (AP) — The White House Monday accused the Soviet Union of lying in claiming that a U. S. aircraft carrier and a tanker are attempting to assist Belgian forces in the strife-ridden Congo.

President Eisenhower's press secretary, James C. Hagerty, said the claim was broadcast by the Moscow radio. Hagerty called it "typical of the lies we are getting from Moscow these days."

The broadcast said, Hagerty reported, that the American aircraft carrier Wasp is anchored at the mouth of the Congo River and is trying to assist Belgian forces attempting to restore order in the newly independent Congo.

1,000 Miles Away

Moscow radio also claimed that an American tanker is anchored near the Wasp.

"Actually the carrier is almost 1,000 miles south of the Congo, and the tanker is much farther than that," Hagerty said.

The Moscow charge and the White House reply came against the background of new tension created when Congolese officials issued an ultimatum giving Belgian troops three days to get out of the Congo. If they don't, the officials said they would invite Soviet forces into the country.

New Jap Cabinet Faces Labor Rift

TOKYO (AP) — Police and left-wing strikers massed Tuesday in the southern Kyushu coal-mining town of Omuta for a showdown in Japan's bitterest labor dispute while a new conservative government took over in Tokyo.

Hayato Ikeda, 60, a tough, outspoken financial expert, became the nation's ninth postwar prime minister. He named a Cabinet that intends to pursue the pro-Western policies of the previous regime of Nobusuke Kishi.

The Cabinet's immediate task will be tiding over the labor crisis at Omuta, some 600 miles southwest of this city, where striking leftist miners are attempting to override court authority.

About 10,000 police were mobilized to move against an estimated 20,000 men of a Mitsui Mining Co. colliery and their allies to enforce an 11-day-old court injunction ordering removal of pickets from the hoppers through which coal is relayed for shipment.

The strikers—protesting management plans to trim the working force—have dug trenches, erected sandbag and barbed wire barricades and armed themselves with iron bars and nail-spiked poles.

The police, moved in from a wide area, were equipped with pistols, tear gas and clubs. They also had steel helmets and gas masks.

The picket lines are backed by the Red-tinted Sohyo Labor Federation, the Communist party and the Socialists.

Ikeda, a financial expert, was elected by Parliament Monday to succeed Kishi, who is recovering from wounds inflicted on his left thigh last Friday by a rightist assailant. The candidate of the dominant Liberal-Democratic party, Ikeda swamped two Socialist opponents. He was minister of International Trade and Industry in the Kishi government.

Highway Official Says

State Is 15 Years Behind In Road Needs

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Highways Secretary Park H. Martin said Monday "there is a considerable gap between what we have in the way of roads and what we have in numbers of vehicles on the roads."

Martin told the Pennsylvania Highway Information Assn. that highways development in the state was estimated to be about 15 years behind actual need.

"Despite the best efforts of the department of highways, there is grave danger that the gap will continue to widen," he said.

"It will widen and become more serious unless there is a far greater effort than at present to modernize and expand the state road network."

To accomplish the goal, Martin said, would require more trained engineers, more supporting technicians and a higher level of spending for construction and maintenance.

New Construction
"We hope, this year, to initiate new construction totaling 175 million dollars," the secretary said, adding:

"But I have estimated that to meet only minimum needs for the next 12 years, the Department of Highways should be spending at a rate of a quarter of a billion dollars a year."

Martin said it appears that 1960 may turn out to be the second best year for highway construction in the department's history.

"But I must stress that we do not consider second best or equal to past performances good enough," he declared. "We must exceed present levels by a wide margin or the gap between facilities available and demands placed upon them will grow to unmanageable proportions."

Spy Flight Case Under Soviet Law

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Supreme Court ordered Monday that pilot Francis Gary Powers stand trial Aug. 17 as a spy for his U2 flight over the Soviet Union.

The Virginian was expected to be the center of a trial here not matched recently in diplomatic scenery.

The rocket which brought him down in the important Ural industrial area around Sverdlovsk on May 1 precipitated a chain of events the peak of which was collapse of the summit conference in Paris.

Most observers here believe the trial will be in Moscow, the seat of the Supreme Court and the center of Soviet news and photo communications. But there is no official information on where it will be.

Soviet Law

Powers, 30, will be tried under a series of Soviet laws which provide that:

1. All spies are tried before military tribunals.
2. All crimes of exceptional importance are tried before the Military Collegium of the Supreme Court.
3. The criminal liability for espionage carries a penalty of seven to 15 years or death. In the Soviet Union execution usually is by shooting.

The trial, before the Military Collegium of the Supreme Court, will be open. This apparently means open to both local and foreign correspondents and others.

There has been no indication of how long the trial will last. It could be short. The evidence already has been put on public exhibition. This includes a printed copy of what Soviet authorities said was a statement by Powers admitting he had been on an espionage mission which started in Turkey, touched down in Pakistan, then continued for about 1,200 miles over Soviet territory before his plane was brought down and he descended in a parachute.

Publicly Displayed

The main evidence was the wreckage of the light-winged U2 which for more than a month was on public display in Gorky Park. Powers will be the first American to come to trial in the Soviet Union so far as local records and recollections show.

Barbara Gay Powers, 24, wife of the flier, said at Milledgeville, Ga., she had no comment on the setting of the trial date.

Powers is from Pound, Va., and the Virginia Bar Assn. has designated three lawyers to defend him. They are Alex Parker, his brother John C. Parker and Frank W. Rogers.

Working with them is John N. Hazard, law professor at Columbia University who lived in Moscow four years, speaks Russian fluently and is considered an authority on Soviet legal procedure. Hazard is now in Warsaw, Poland.

Alex Parker said the lawyers and Mrs. Powers have not yet received any answer. They are presently repeating the request through the Soviet Embassy in Washington.

Although the fear of Soviet influence in Cuba prompted the OAS to act, no mention was made of the Soviet Union or Cuba in the resolution calling for the meeting.

A seven member committee headed by Fernando Lobo of Brazil was appointed to draw up an agenda for the meeting and determine the date and place it is to be held.

Machine Traps Boy
PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Silvio Luzzi put a dime in a vending machine Monday. When the machine failed to deliver a package of cookies the 7-year-old boy struck his hand — all the way up the elbow — into the drop chute. Firemen had to be called to help free Silvio from the machine.

OAS Approves Caribbean Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Organization of American States gave overwhelming approval Monday to a meeting of its foreign ministers to study tensions in the Caribbean.

Although the fear of Soviet influence in Cuba prompted the OAS to act, no mention was made of the Soviet Union or Cuba in the resolution calling for the meeting.

A seven member committee headed by Fernando Lobo of Brazil was appointed to draw up an agenda for the meeting and determine the date and place it is to be held.

Six Perish, 15 Missing In Blast, Fire

MERRILL, Wis. (AP) — An explosion and fire demolished the one-story J. C. Penney Co. department store here Monday, killing at least six persons and injuring 20. Rescue workers probed the ruins with the belief 15 others remain trapped inside the charred debris.

"I could hear women and children inside crying for help," said Robert Kjell, 35, who was across the street when the blast came.

U. S. Charges Illegal Detention

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States formally accused the Soviet Union Monday of illegally detaining two American survivors of the July 1 attack on an RB47 reconnaissance plane.

The Soviets claim the plane violated their air space. The United States contends it was on a mapping mission over international waters.

In a stiffly worded note delivered in Moscow to the Soviet Ministry of Foreign Affairs, the United States demanded release of the two airmen. The note further demanded that a representative of the U.S. Embassy in Moscow be permitted to see them without delay.

No Gas Connection
Officials of the Merrill city gas utility said a gas leak "could not possibly" have caused the latest explosion. They said there is no gas connection to the building.

One survivor, John Porter, said he was inside the store at the time of the explosion. "The next thing I knew, I was in the basement, and the roof came crashing down," Porter said. He climbed up a pile of rubble to the street and escaped with minor bruises.

Reply To Soviet
The note replied to a Soviet note of July 15 regarding the shooting down of the Air Force plane.

The United States said the Soviet note failed to contribute anything new and simply reiterated allegations "which must be known to the ministry to be wholly inaccurate and incorrect."

The two survivors whose release was demanded are 1st Lt. John R. McKone and 1st Lt. F. B. Olmstead.

The American reply acknowledged the Soviet Union's promise to turn over the body of Capt. William A. Palm, pilot of the ill-fated aircraft, to U.S. representatives.

Praises Role Of Craftsmen
HARRISBURG (AP) — Gov. Lawrence Monday praised the role of craftsmen in Pennsylvania's history.

"They have played an important and highly responsible role in our development as a society, industrially, economically and spiritually," he said in a statement.

The statement was issued for the Pennsylvania Guild of Craftsmen's annual fair and convention July 28-30 at East Stroudsburg.

Dear Abby

Dear Abby: I am a television widower. I enjoy television in the living room but I made the mistake of giving my wife a portable TV, which she lugs from room to room.

This year I was told he was coming to spend the whole summer with us as his mother couldn't manage him any more. I was neither consulted nor considered. I am the one who has to cook and clean for him, and do his laundry in addition to trying to discipline him, which is not easy. I feel that this responsibility is too much for me as the boy is ungrateful, unreasonable and mean. What should I do?

NOT CONSULTED

Dear Not Consulted: Tell your husband what you've told me.

Dear Abby: Five years ago Bob died and left me with three sons—then 6, 8, and 10. He had some insurance, but I was far from being a wealthy widow.

In all this time (five years) Bob's family did nothing for me or the boys. No one offered to take the boys to a ball game, a circus or to go fishing. Not even a Christmas dinner!

I met a fine man a year ago. He loves me and the boys and we love him. He is not of my religion but I am changing to his to marry him. We've told the boys they may choose their own religion and they are all changing so we can go to church together.

Suddenly Bob's family came to life. They are up in arms. They've been calling and coming over to "bring me to my senses." They say I have no right to do this to Bob's children. I'd like your opinion.

Dear Troubled: If you promised your first husband to bring up his children in his faith, you should keep that promise. If no such promise was made, disregard the protests of Bob's family. The family that prays together—stays together.

Confidential To Chef: Have you ever noticed that all hard-boiled eggs are yellow inside? "What's your problem?" Write to Abby in care of this paper. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Modern Postoffice Set For Gouldsboro

GOULDSBORO — Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield advised Sen. Hugh Scott yesterday that a modern postoffice has been authorized for Gouldsboro.

The Postoffice Department, he added, is asking for competitive bids to rent a modern facility under the department's community leasing program.

Specifications call for a facility containing approximately 1,000 square feet of floor space with an adequate area for parking and truck maneuvering.

According to Postmaster R. J. Courtney, bids should be submitted to the regional real estate manager, 306-B, General Postoffice, 30th and Market Sts., Philadelphia 1, Pa.

The real estate manager will supply bid forms, specifications, lease provisions and other information.

The successful bidder, Postmaster Courtney said, will provide the modern postal facility to department specifications and will rent to the Postoffice Department under a rental agreement.

The postmaster added that the postal facility will remain under private ownership while rented to the federal government and the lessor paying local real estate taxes like any home or business property owners.

Sen. Scott also pointed out that Summerfield has indicated

VFW Leader Cracks Down On Gambling

HARRISBURG (AP)—Gambling in VFW clubs must, under a self-policing edict issued here.

Author of the ultimatum was Louis G. Feldmann of Hazleton, national commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Feldmann told a business session in connection with the VFW's 41st annual convention which met here that if gambling is not halted within one week in those clubs which permit it, "I'll spend the next three weeks suspending charters."

"Little Guys" Feldmann declared it was not the majority that caused the trouble but "the couple of little guys."

The commander said he was backing the statewide crackdown on gambling launched by Gov. David L. Lawrence and the state police.

Feldmann chided the veterans for their failure to take more interest in causes which affect their welfare.

He said he had heard nothing about veterans in the Democratic platform and was sending a wire "to the other political party convention asking them not to forget us entirely."

The Republican convention begins July 25 in Chicago.

Russia Mum On Powers

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Soviet Union has given the United States no official notice of a trial date for pilot Francis Gary Powers and has not allowed embassy officials to interview him, the State Department said Monday.

The Soviet news agency Tass announced in Moscow today that Powers, pilot of the U2 reconnaissance plane downed in the Soviet Union, would be tried for espionage beginning Aug. 17.

State Department press officer Lincoln White said the U. S. Embassy in Moscow has repeatedly asked the Soviet Foreign Ministry to reply to a request for an interview.

"Our latest effort was July 11," White said. "On that day the embassy handed an aide memoir in Moscow repeating once more the request to talk to Powers and also that the Soviet grant visas for the attorneys retained by the Powers family." There was no reply, he said.

Milk Output Up In State

HARRISBURG (AP)—Milk production was up 3.6 per cent in Pennsylvania during the first six months of 1960, the State Agriculture Department said Monday.

June production of 626 million pounds was down 10 per cent from May, but still ahead of the like month of 1959. The month-to-month decline was normal, the department said, because historically May accounts for the year's peak milk production.

the need for modernizing or replacement of a total of 12,000 of the nation's postoffices because of a lack of space and obsolescence.

Summerfield further noted that congressional approval was given to the postal modernization program to provide in the fiscal year 1960-61 alone 1,400 new postoffices with several hundred facilities scheduled for complete modernization in every part of the nation.

The Gouldsboro Postoffice includes part of Coolbaugh Township in northwestern Monroe County in the territory it serves.

Gardeners Contest Deadline

THE DEADLINE for entering the Junior Gardeners Contest is Sept. 1, a spokesman for the sponsoring agency reported yesterday.

Mrs. Elwood Grant, junior activities chairman of the Monroe County Garden Club, said all young people wishing to enter the contest may obtain one of the official application blanks from her. They are furnished by the Flower and Garden Foundation.

Same Rules

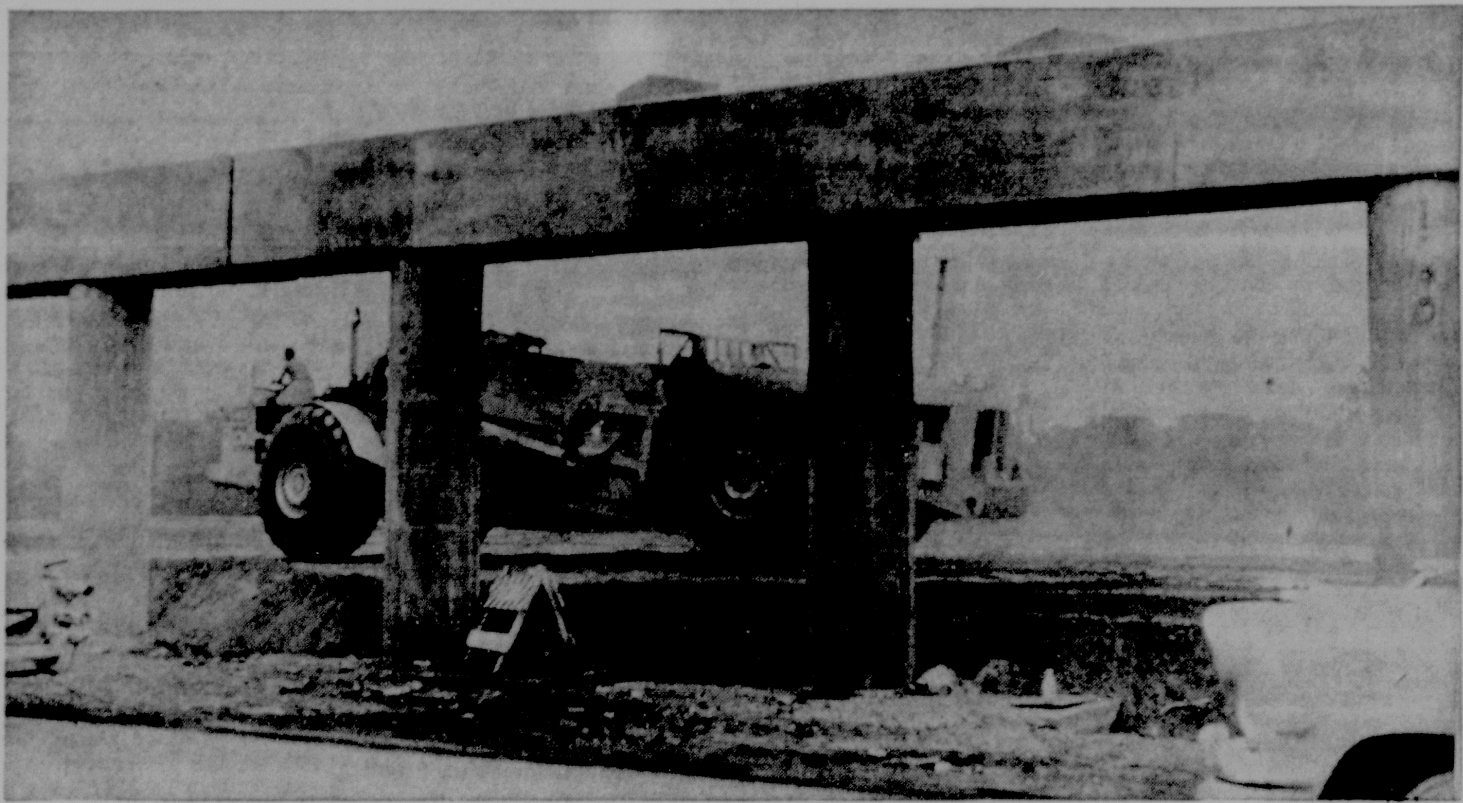

The same rules govern the local and national contests. A duplicate copy of each gardening project, plus a black and white photo of some phase of the project, must be sent to Mrs. Grant by Sept. 1. Local business places have donated prizes and gift certificates for the winners.

The national contest has been divided into 11 zones, so every one has an equal chance as far as weather, soil and climate are concerned. Likewise to even the contestants' chances, they have been divided into three age groups.

For example, high school seniors this fall, or the first three years of college have a chance to win a $100 scholarship to any accredited educational institution of their choice.

Eleven such scholarships given, one for each zone of the country. In addition, nurseries and seed houses have given hundreds of additional prizes.

The next age group covers the teens up to juniors in high school. The third group is for five to 12 year olds.

PP&L Report Is Honored

PP&L's 1959 annual report has received a merit award from Financial World magazine for "distinguished achievement in annual reporting." The local utility's report, selected on the basis of content, design and typography, was among 5,000 shareowner publications entered in various industrial classifications in the magazine's annual contest.

The selection automatically qualifies the PP&L report for further consideration for one of Financial World's 1960 "Oscar-of-Industry" awards. "Oscar" winners will be announced this fall.

PP&L has been the winner of a number of Financial World merit awards in recent years. The Company's 1953 report also won the top "Oscar" award for the outstanding cover design among all entries.

This is also the second time this year that the latest PP&L report has been singled out in industrial competition. Earlier, it received an honorable mention award at the annual Edison Electric Institute convention in a contest conducted among the world's major business-managed light and power companies.

GOD'S SIMPLE PLAN OF SALVATION

By FORD PORTER

HAUSERVILLE UNION CHAPEL

Paul Freeman, Pastor

RD 2, Saylorsburg, Pa.

My Friends! I am asking you the most important question of life. Your joy or sorrow for all ETERNITY depends upon it. The question is: Are you SAVED? It is not if you are a member of some church, but, Are you SAVED? It is not how good you are, but, Are you SAVED? No one can enjoy the blessings of God or go to Heaven without being saved. Jesus said to Nicodemus in John 3:7 "YE MUST BE BORN AGAIN." God gives us in His Word the ONLY plan for Salvation. The Plan is simple, you can be saved TODAY.

First, my friend, you must realize YOU ARE A SINNER.

"There is none righteous, no, not one."—Romans 3:10.

"For there is no difference: For ALL have sinned, and come short of the glory of God."—Romans 3:22, 23.

There is NO CHANCE to be saved unless you come to realize you are a SINNER.

Because you are a sinner, you are CONDEMNED TO DIE.

"For the wages of sin is death."—Romans 6:23.

"Sin, bringeth forth death."—James 1:15.

This means separation from God, in HELL, FOREVER. How terrible. Yes, my friend, but it is true. But God loved you so much that HE GAVE HIS ONLY BEGOTTEN SON, Jesus Christ, as your SUBSTITUTE, Who bore YOUR sin, and died in YOUR place.

"He hath made HIM (Jesus) to be SIN for US, who knew no sin; that WE might be MADE the RIGHTEOUSNESS of God in HIM."—2 Corinthians 5:21.

"Who His OWN SELF bore OUR sins in His own body on the tree, that WE, being dead to sins, should live unto righteousness; by whose stripes YE WERE HEALED."—1 Peter 2:24.

Jesus had to die. He had to shed HIS BLOOD.

"For the LIFE of the flesh IS IN THE BLOOD."—Leviticus 17:11.

"Without the SHEDDING OF BLOOD there is no remission."—Hebrews 9:22.

Now we cannot understand how our sin was laid upon Jesus, but God says in HIS WORD that it was. SO YOUR SIN, my friend, was laid UPON JESUS and HE DIED IN YOUR PLACE. It is true. God cannot lie.

The Philippiian jailor asked Paul and Silas: "What must I DO to be SAVED?"

"And they said, BELIEVE on the Lord Jesus Christ, and THOU SHALT BE SAVED, and thy house."—Acts 16:31.

Simply believe on Him as the one who bore YOUR SIN, DIED IN YOUR PLACE, was buried and was raised for YOUR JUSTIFICATION. Now call upon Him.

"For WHOSEVER shall call upon the name of the Lord, SHALL BE SAVED."—Romans 10:13.

The first prayer for a SINNER to pray is given in Luke 18:13—"God be merciful TO ME A SINNER." Now you are a sinner and surely you are sorry because of it. Right NOW, wherever you are lift your heart to God in prayer. It does not take a long, loud prayer, for God is ANXIOUS to save you. Just say: Oh God, I am a sinner, I am sorry, I repent, have MERCY upon me, and SAVE me for Jesus' sake. Now just take HIM at His Word.

"For WHOSEVER, (that includes YOU) shall call upon the name of the Lord, SHALL BE SAVED, (SHALL BE, not might or can, but) SHALL BE SAVED."—Romans 10:13.

Just take God at His WORD. When you have done what He has asked, CLAIM SALVATION BY FAITH, according to HIS WORD, BELIEVE AND THOU SHALT BE SAVED. No church, no lodge, no good works, NO ONE BUT JESUS ONLY CAN SAVE YOU.

The simple plan of salvation is: YOU ARE A SINNER; because you are a sinner you MUST DIE or else believe on Christ who was YOUR SUBSTITUTE and died in YOUR PLACE, was buried and was raised again. Just call upon GOD, REALIZING you are a sinner and ask Him to have mercy upon you and save you for JESUS' SAKE. Then just take HIM at HIS WORD and BY FAITH CLAIM SALVATION. You say, "Surely that is not all that is necessary to do to be saved." Yes it is, absolutely all. Thank God many have been won to Christ by this simple plan. It is SCRIPTURAL. IT IS GOD'S PLAN. My friend, BELIEVE IT AND FOLLOW IT TODAY. Now is the time—Today is the day.

"Behold, NOW is the accepted time; behold, NOW is the day of salvation."—2 Corinthians 6:2.

"Boast not thyself of tomorrow; for thou knowest not what a day may bring forth."—Proverbs 27:1.

If it is not perfectly clear, READ IT OVER and OVER until you understand it. Do not lay this heart down until you do. YOUR SOUL is worth more than all the world.

"For what shall it profit a man, if he shall gain the whole world, and lose HIS OWN SOUL? Or what shall a man give in exchange for his soul?"—Mark 8:36, 37.

BE SURE YOU ARE SAVED. YOU NEED SALVATION ABOVE EVERYTHING ELSE. IF YOU LOSE YOUR SOUL YOU MISS HEAVEN AND LOSE ALL. GOD HELP YOU TO BE SAVED TODAY.

He will save you and also KEEP YOU.

"There hath no temptation taken you but such as is common to man; but God is faithful, who will not suffer you to be tempted above that ye are able; but will with the temptation also make a way to escape, that ye may be able to bear it."—1 Corinthians 10:13.

DO NOT trust your feelings. They change. STAND on GOD'S PROMISES. THEY NEVER change.

AFTER YOU ARE SAVED THERE ARE THREE THINGS TO PRACTICE DAILY FOR SPIRITUAL GROWTH:

PRAY—You talk to God. READ YOUR BIBLE—God talks to you. WITNESS—You tell for God.

"Whoever therefore shall confess me before men, him will I confess also before My Father which is in Heaven."—Matthew 10:32.

Abuse Of Spraying

The State Highways Department has crews at work spraying a chemical solution along both sides of state-owned roads in a campaign to kill weeds and brush.

Insofar as the poison kills the weeds and improves the visibility for drivers along crooked stretches of highway, we are in hearty accord with the program.

But when careless workmen allow the chemical to be sprayed beyond the right-of-way to a point where it kills shrubbery and flowers on private property, we think that a check should be called on the whole project before further losses are incurred.

Our attention has been called to the killing of trees, flowers and shrubbery in yards in the LaAnna, South Sterling and Newfoundland areas last week.

The foliage was not on the legal right-of-way nor did it extend over the highway or the right-of-way in the instances cited. The wanton destruction of the private property, if indeed it was wanton, cannot be excused.

After all, shrubbery and trees are costly and valuable pieces of personal property that cannot be replaced overnight once they have been destroyed. Care should be taken in preserving them for the benefits they provide in shade and beauty.

We realize that highway crews have a job to perform in clearing rights-of-way of underbrush and other vegetation that obscures the vision of motorists.

They also have a responsibility to preserve the scenic beauty of our region by using good judgment in the spraying operations. A haphazard job with no regard for the rights of property owners is not enough.

Opinions Of Other Editors

No Job For Junior

As schools around the country closed for the summer, a number of campaigns were started to help teen-agers get summer jobs. It was a good idea.

Many of these youngsters will be needing money for college, and all will benefit from the experience of working, earning and managing the money they earn. Working hours these days still leave plenty of time for recreation, and there's no homework to interfere.

But the drives, often sponsored by local and state governments, are running into some snags. The webs of laws and red tape our governments have woven are proving the biggest barriers to summer jobs for young people in many cases.

One man, a portly fellow of 60, was about to start mowing his lawn when a couple of husky teen-agers came by and offered to do it for him. The price was right, and the householder wanted to hire them. But he said no.

"I already had a cleaning woman who came in once a week," he said. "If I hired these kids, I'd have two employees."

I would have had to go downtown and take out a workmen's compensation insurance policy at a cost of $60.

The young men didn't get the job, and the older fellow was tired and out of sorts before the lawn was cut.

Local regulations requiring working certificates even in summer, and Federal minimum wage requirements, social security and income tax deductions often make hiring temporary help a lot of trouble.

And parents, who sometimes must add what Junior earns to their own tax returns at high tax rates, sometimes are unenthusiastic about the lad's working.

And sometimes the situation is complicated by union shops, which require initiation fees, membership applications that take time, and other expensive and delaying red tape.

The day of the casual summer job, such a help to eager youngsters in other days, seems to be passing—one more casualty of creeping public and private bureaucratization.

The Allen-Scott Report

Religious Influence

By Robert S. Allen and Paul Scott

Washington—Sen. John Kennedy's religion will not be a major factor in determining the outcome of the Presidential election.

That is the considered opinion of Vice President Richard Nixon. In a discussion with a friend on the verge of his own nomination as the Republican standard bearer, Nixon frankly analyzed the assets and weaknesses of his Democratic rival. Nixon discounted the religious factor as of any real consequence.

That Kennedy is a Roman Catholic will win him some votes and lose others. The overall result, Nixon believes, will be a "balancing off," with possibly a "small net gain" for Kennedy.

Assets
The latter's principal campaign assets and debits, as Nixon sees them, are as follows: The Kennedy organization and its ability to plan and act fast and decisively — for which Nixon has the greatest admiration and respect.

Kennedy's highly effective capacity to "project himself," and to appeal to the "new citizens of Suburbia."

Kennedy's access to ample campaign funds, both from his own wealthy family and from business and labor supporters.

Debits
The appearance of immaturity. This youthfulness will attract some voters, Nixon concedes, but will disconcert many more.

Continuing international tensions of Suburbia.
Inherent public distrust of "spenders and the concept of growthmanship."

Above all, Nixon deems the Kennedy-Johnson ticket the most powerful the Democrats could have put into the field, the most potent since the days of Franklin Roosevelt.

Spelling It Out — This year's election will be decided, Vice President Nixon is convinced, on men and not political parties. The friend drew this view by noting that in most of the key states, the Democratic registration outnumbered the Republican. "In the light of that," he asked, "how do you expect to beat the Kennedy-Johnson combination?"

"This time," replied Nixon, "the American people will vote for the man and not the party. That is why it is vital that we must campaign more effectively, and we must present policies and programs that will appeal to the voters."

As to how policies and programs that he advocates differ from his opponent, Nixon expressed it this way:

"Kennedy's an adherent of the growthmanship school. He gets his economics from such sources as Kenneth Galbraith and Arthur Schlesinger, Jr. They think the way to solve national problems is to have the government spend more. I disagree completely with that."

"Back in the Thirties, the great majority of the people had lost faith in private enterprise and, like drowning men clutching for straws, clamored that 'the government must save us.' Today Americans have regained their confidence in the intrinsic stability, productivity and desirability of private enterprise."

"I am thoroughly convinced that the American people are for sound government and against inflation. They are distrustful of those who claim that government handouts are necessary and helpful. At the same time, the American people want progress and improvement."

"That is where so many standpatists miss the point. 'One thing is certain.' I do not intend to outbid the opposition on economic goals. We can attain sound and lasting goals that the so-called Liberals can never reach with their theories and proposals."

"I shall tell the American people, give us the power of government and we will adopt policies that will enable the people, supplemented by government, to reach the lightest heights."

'I'm Ready For Him . . . Soon As I Get Past Rocky'

Off The Record

By Robert Clark, City Editor

(First in a series of two columns on the Democratic National Convention at Los Angeles.)

Is the Republican National Convention going to be as hilarious as the past Democratic one?

For the life of TV, we hope so. But for the good of the GOP stalwarts we sincerely hope not.

While the faithful flock of the party not-now-in-power would like us to believe that the great convention was a work of art—those who viewed the proceedings from Los Angeles likened it many times to a Mack Sennett comedy.

There were many incidents of what's going on here motif, including the interruption offered when Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt and Adlai Stevenson made middle of the meeting entrance. These "so-called" impromptu hellos halted speeches and other business of the convention much to the dislike of the parties on the rostrum.

In between it appeared Frank Sinatra, Peter Lawford, Sammy Davis, and Shirley MacLaine were running for fan magazine offices as they ceremoniously walked in the aisles so autograph seekers would ask them for their famed penned names.

Probably the best evidence of what to believe and what not to believe was the situation created by Lyndon B. Johnson, the man who was nominated for the vice presidency.

Prior to the convention, the Texan said he wouldn't trade a vote in the Senate (he's majority leader) for a gavel, the instrument used by the vice president. Also John B. Kennedy's running mate belittled the post, noting it was a boy's job and only good for a young man needing experience in higher politics.

However, it turned out to be a different theme at the end of the convention with Johnson officially taking the call for the "boy's" spot and later proclaiming what a valuable position it was.

The way Johnson was nominated would make even nearby Hollywood laugh. The chairman of the convention, Leroy Collins of Florida, heard a motion naturally from Massachusetts seeking a vote of acclamation.

Running true to form the Ayes beat the Nays. How we don't know but maybe Governor Collins' ears were better than most assembled. It was supposed to be a two-third majority but most of those who listened could hardly have come up with half Ayes and Nos let alone any majority favoring Johnson.

It was supposed to be that way and Kennedy and his well-organized unit wasted little time in making sure it was.

Tomorrow — The median which brought us the proceedings from the city of the transplanted Dodgers.

The Pennsylvania Story

Bloom Confident

By Mason Denison

Harrisburg — "We're going to our last convention as the minority party," quipped affable, hard driving Republican

I. Bloom as he stood in the midst of preparations the other day for next week's Republican National Convention in Chicago.

Meanwhile Pennsylvania Democrats, now in the driver's seat on Pennsylvania's Capitol Hill and back from Los Angeles and their own convention last week have quite a different outlook.

"We're in to stay—and the outcome of the elections this fall will prove the point," commented Democratic State Chairman John S. Rice following last week's convale.

One is wrong. Which one is in error is open to wide conjecture at this point. Nevertheless it does underscore the almost painful seriousness with which the outcome of this fall's elections is viewed by Republican and Democratic leaders of Pennsylvania alike.

Both conventions have actually become a marshalling point for leaders of each party. Democrats at the convention last week hammered out what they refer to as the "victory sweep" with top Democratic national leaders in an all-out bid to keep Pennsylvania in the Democratic column in this fall's presidential race.

Republican leaders from the Keystone State on the other hand are destined to follow a quite similar course at the Chicago confab next week.

Between the two things are looking up for Pennsylvania voters this fall — and in 1962!

The optimism being evidenced by Pennsylvania Democrats these days is illustrated by their constant pointing to the reduction of the Republican registration edge as "a healthy sign."

Republican leaders on the other hand don't look at it in quite the same light.

They point out that Democrats in 1964 won control of the Governor's Office with an underdog registration edge — and therefore there is no reason why they themselves could not follow the same pattern and win an edge, no matter how small, emerge victorious this fall and in the gubernatorial sweepstakes two years hence.

Unity is one theme Keystone State GOP leaders are pounding hard in a grimly determined effort to attract rank and file Republicans back to the fold.

It is expected to be the pattern throughout the next week when the Pennsylvania GOP bloc acts on any convention matters, regardless of the possible insignificance.

This is interesting contrast to the Republican convention of eight years ago when the delegation headed by the then Governor John S. Fine was almost as badly split as Democrats and Republicans themselves.

Pennsylvania Republicans this year are not going to Chicago to make headlines or provide amusement for the folks at home. It is strictly a business deal from the beginning.

In Chicago next week will be the dominating opposing elements of the GOP in Pennsylvania. What happens when they gather around the conference board will be watched closely. This is the sideplay for Pennsylvania at the convention.

It can be most indicative!

Try and Stop Me

—by Bennett Cerf

For Lincoln's birthday, an enterprising bookseller in New Jersey filled a window with volumes about the Great Emancipator, and hired a lanky, raw-boned male model to sit at a desk supposedly writing proclamations. The display was a great success, prompting the sale of a lot of books, and attracting big crowds at all hours of the day.

One spectator, in fact, came charging in to the store, demanding to talk to "Abraham Lincoln" in person. "I've been looking for that fellow for weeks," he explained. "He owes me ten dollars!"

"Television hasn't killed the art of conversation at all," insists Marceline Cox. "If you don't believe me, ask any parent who has tried to listen to a program the children don't care for."

George Sokolsky Says . . .

Is Oratory Dead?

One thing about the Democratic Convention: oratory seems to be dead. Not one orator appeared on the rostrum. Not one speaker showed the spectators with wit, humor, pathos, flights of language or flights of thought.

There was no William Jennings Bryan; there was no Bourke Cockran. The silver tongues had become base metal. It was anticipated that Senator Frank Church would deliver such a keynote speech as would make the rafters ring. Nothing rang. Also there were no rafters. Perhaps the microphones kill the voice.

Edmund Burke had no microphone, yet his oratory lives forever; Patrick Henry spoke without a television audience; Daniel Webster needed no director to tell him when to come on and go off.

Senator Church employed polished gestures, but not convincing ones. All this throwing arms up above the head, a sort of political symbol which everybody seems to use these days, looks ridiculous on television. I notice prize fighters do it too.

Jack O'Brian, the TV expert, makes the point that Senator Church's speech was too long. No speech is too long or too short. It is either gripping, startling, sustained, noble, interesting, exciting or it is dull.

The speeches were dull. A two minute speech can be dull; a two hour speech could be brilliant and charming.

The microphone does something to the female voice that is horrendous. That is not so with professional actresses. When they speak their parts, they sound as they should. But when a female political orator rises to the microphone, her voice goes into octaves to which the human ear is unaccustomed.

Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt has had enormous experience as a speaker. In fact, if one were to have to give her a professional designation, it would have to be "speaker." Yet, when she rose to second Adlai Stevenson, despite the fact that she was not a delegate, her voice, as it came over television, was forced and noisy.

When otherwise occupied, Mrs. Roosevelt's voice seems normal. No dulcet tones hers, to charm the cigar smoking delegates. She sounded like an angry mama scolding a family of juvenile delinquents.

The nominators and seconders were astonishing. The shortest of them was Sam Rayburn who had his say and let it go at that. He made no pretensions at oratory. Some of the others felt that they had to reach stenographic climaxes with each phrase.

I should imagine that the most ridiculous clap-trappy sort of street corner harangue was delivered by Senator Eugene McCarthy of Minnesota when he was engaged in attempting to resurrect the dead.

His nomination of Adlai Stevenson, spoken not to the delegates but to the motley crew that worked its way into the convention hall for a Blitz which died aborning, lacked both form and content. It was hysterical. He does much better in the halls of Congress.

If the conventions are going to permit television to expose them, they will have to adapt new devices. Oratory is a glorious art. It is designed to make words act psychologically as music.

The true orator must have language, voice and gesture — a combination that sets into the mind and soul of a listener.

Those who may have heard an opportunity to hear William Jennings Bryan speak his "Cross of Gold" speech, or Orson Welles do the Marc Antony speech over Caesar's body can have a measure of oratory.

Some politicians believe that they can touch the human soul or wash the mind by shouting, getting red in the face and swinging their arms. The microphone resists shouting; television pales the face and arm-swinging is cut out of the picture. What comes over is a big, open mouth over an extended chin and a voice that is metallic and tenorish. No orator was ever a tenor.

Thus far I have referred only to form. As for content, what can be said? Even the commentators, who speak English professionally every day, had to admit that Governor Collins of Florida spoke a more correct English, better pronounced than had been heard in conventions in many years.

Some pronunciations were hardly understandable and the prompter machine, which is a device of the devil, sometimes fouled up a speaker. Did Demosthenes require a prompter machine to tell him what to do? Or did Cicero? What weaklings machines have made us. We shall not only lose our legs; we shall have voices like chichadees.

Just Between Us —

—By Bobby Westbrook

Naples: There is an island in the Mediterranean across the bay from Terracina where legend has it Circe made her home — luring with her siren song passing sailors — among them Aeneas and his crew — and then turned them into swine.

The unkind might say that they could see the resemblance in the way some 20 of us lit into the hot dogs, baked beans and potato salad on the terrace of the villa where the Jacksons were having a Fourth of July picnic complete with friends, kids, dogs, swimming and hot dog rolls.

It was a typical American Fourth of July in a most untypical setting. The Mediterranean, green shading out to blue was flecked with white caps that the wind was kicking up. The tip of Apennine peak in back of us showed the ruins — enormous even in their decay — of a former Temple to the Sun dating back to the second century. The pink villas lining the half-moon of the bay — ancient houses climbing the hill behind were strange and wonderful.

The guests, though, were typically American though long in exile and the reason for the picnic was typically American too. The Jacksons (he is Security Officer for Italy) had rented the villa for their own vacation — but no Fourth of July is just a family affair so they had invited a whole mob.

We rode down through the flattest scenery I have seen in Italy — the former marshes which Mussolini had drained and reclaimed. We had swum in the Mediterranean — well could as that wind was I only dipped, but Ruth Brown swam and Peter and Linda and the other college kids tried their hand at snorkeling in water famous for its clarity.

We sat in the hot sun while beach umbrellas flapped and snapped above us. After the picnic we drove to the Temple and walked its ancient stones, peered down into ancient wells, and out through the arches of its colonnade to the circles of the town below us — the pattern of its harbor where fishing boats were anchored — and out across the sea where real boats from a distance gave the illusion of ancient galleys coming in threat-

Green Is Color Headliner As Fullness Enters Skirts; Fashion Week Progresses

By Judy Doty

New York — Food and fashions obviously go together. At breakfast, lunch and dinner yesterday we were treated to both the ultra in food and the newest (and ultra) in fashions. The designs are so new that they haven't even been adapted yet for you to wear next fall. And if the ultra in food continues, we won't be able to wear the fashions when they are.

Adele Simpson's gorgeous clothes for the luxury-loving conservative were paraded at a very early (7:30) breakfast in the Pierre ballroom. Her collection was followed by Maurice Rentner's feminine, flattering and colorful clothes designed by Bill Blass, Rudolf's always stunning gowns, Jane Derby's adorably carefree styles for the young figure, and Oleg Cassini's exquisite creations for the beautifully pampered.

Color-wise, clothes seen thus far are running the gamut of jewel tones, with the emerald greens and topaz browns leading the way. Lots more black and white is being shown today than at the spring shows. The green variations are going to be (and we're making an early guess) the headliner color this fall. This is particularly so in suits and ensembles, although they are making their appearance in brocades, silks, and featherweight wools for daytime frocks and evening wear.

Many styles are made spectacular because sleeve detailing on all the clothes for all occasions seems to be setting the mood for the total design. More use of draping, shoulder to floor, or waistline to hemline, or cross banding front and back, is also a new trend. Although many dresses are still fashioned on the modified sheath lines, ened conquest.

Full of food, sleepy from the wind, the sea, the sun and the sand, tired from our clambering around temples, the ride down the Ancient Appian Way along the sea to Naples took on a sort of dreamlike quality if you didn't have to drive. Dark had fallen by the time we got here.

Sort of a nightmare in technicolor was trying to find our hotel in the unbelievable double diamond necklace that is Naples — one on land and the other reflected in the bay. But find it we did on a hillside so steep that you enter the lobby from the street but go down three flights to our rooms which have balconies overlooking the bay with the aircraft carrier U. S. Roosevelt anchored in full view, strung with lights from stem to stern and marking an exclamation mark to our Fourth of July.

Yanks Trim Indians, 9-2

CLEVELAND (AP)—Mickey Mantle capped a five-run New York rally in the fourth inning Monday night with a home run and two more to lead the Yankees to a 9-2 triumph over the Cleveland Indians.

The Yankees upstaged came against starter Dick Stigman (4-5) and snapped a 1-1 deadlock. Whitey Ford (6-5) was the winner over the Indians for the second time this season. He gave up eight hits.

New York scored in the first on three walks and an error by Woodie Held, who suffered a broken finger and will be sidelined from three to five weeks. Cleveland tied it in the second on John Romano's 10th homer of the season, a long shot over the left centerfield fence.

Roger Maris slammed his 29th homer for the Yankees in the ninth inning.

Elston Howard started the big New York rally by beating out a hit to short. Then Bobby Richardson singled to left and the bases were loaded when Ford bunted and Stigman threw too late for a force at third base. One run scored on Clellis Boyer's sacrifice fly. Hector Lopez bounced back to the mound and Stigman threw to second to start a double play. But the Indians only got a force play at second as Lopez beat the relay to first, and Richardson scored.

Roger Maris then smacked a single off Stigman's leg and Mantle followed with a shot over the left field fence, his 22nd homer of the season.

POST GAME ARGUMENT—Umpire Joe Paparella, arrow, is restrained by Tiger manager Jimmy Dykes as he challenges a fan above Tiger dugout after New York Yankees-Detroit Tigers twin bill at Briggs Stadium. Fans twice delayed nightcap by tossing debris on field in dispute over Bill Skowron's hit into right field stands which Paparella ruled a fair ball and home run. Protests from fans continued as Paparella left field after game despite Detroit's twin win.

Nat'l Favors Expansion

CHICAGO (AP)—The National Baseball League Monday voted unanimously in favor of expansion and named a committee for expansion to be headed by Walter O'Malley, president of the Los Angeles Dodgers.

League President Warren Giles said shortly after the meeting that expansion is inevitable and invited both the American League and the Continental League to meet with the National League on the matter.

Giles said, "the National League today discussed major league expansion at length. Expansion by a new league and expansion of present leagues were both considered. The standards for a new league were set forth at Columbus last year and were accepted by the Continental League which so far has not met them."

Appoints Committee
To expedite prompt action Giles appointed a committee on expansion and issued his invitation to representatives of the American League and the Continental League to meet with the National League committee as soon as possible.

"If it develops that a new major league is impracticable," said Giles, "the National League has voted unanimously to expand its membership to 10 clubs."

The expansion committee, in addition to O'Malley, will consist of Lou Perini, owner of the Milwaukee Braves; John Galbreath, owner of the Pittsburgh Pirates; and Bob Carpenter, owner of the Philadelphia Phillies.

No Standards Set
Giles said that no cities were mentioned in the expansion move and that no standards were set.

"The American League is on record as favoring expansion and already has named a committee on expansion to be headed by Del Webb, co-owner of the Yankees. However the American League met in New York last week and said it could not expand by itself and needed help."

Reds Will Not Leave Cincy During His Life--Crosley

CINCINNATI (AP)—Powell Crosley Jr., majority owner of the Cincinnati Reds, said Monday the team will not leave Cincinnati during his lifetime.

Crosley, 73, in Chicago for a National League huddle, said in a statement through the team's home office:

"Recently there have been stories based on unfounded rumors, as there have been for many years, flaring up that the Cincinnati baseball club might be sold and major league baseball taken away from Cincinnati."

None Authorized
"None of these stories ever has been authorized by me, nor have there ever been any negotiations by me or any one in our organization in this direction.

Crosley, Cincinnati industrialist whose principal business affiliation now is the baseball team, noted the club has an agreement with the City of Cincinnati.

Similar rumors cropped up nearly four years ago when Crosley complained that parking for fans around Crosley Field was inadequate. He said other cities had made attractive offers seeking to lure major league baseball.

Oregon Man Is Selected State Fish Group Head

HARRISBURG (AP)—Albert Day, a life-long conservationist, Monday was selected by members of the State Fish Commission to fill the vacant post of executive director.

As the chief administrative officer of the commission, the 62-year-old Portland, Ore., resident will receive an annual salary of $14,000.

At the same time the commissioners selected new officers, appointed a new administrative secretary, approved a report on a preliminary survey of the feasibility of fishways in the Susquehanna River and ordered a one-year study to perfect fishway plans.

Regulations Okayed
The present fishing regulations and seasons were approved for another year with one minor exception. The commission knocked out the annual June 15 starting date for warm water fishing and said that in the future the season would start on the Saturday nearest June 15.

The policy-making body appointed Warren Singer, Tunikhanoff, R. D. Wyoming County, as the new administrative secretary. He will receive $7,407 per year.

The unsalaried commissioners selected Wallace C. Dean, Meadville, as president, succeeding Albert Hinkle Jr., Clearfield. Commissioner Gerard J. Adams, Hawley, was elected vice president to replace Dean.

Campbell Sets Car Test Date

GOODWOOD, England (AP)—Donald Campbell has set Thursday as the date for the first powered test of his Bluebird, the car in which he hopes to set a new world record.

The English daredevil plans to shoot for the salt flat on the Bonneville Salt Flats in Utah. It was there that England's John Cobb set the existing record of 334.196 miles per hour over the measured mile in 1947.

The Campbell car has a 4,250 horsepower engine with an idling speed of 170 m.p.h.

Williams, Musial Keep Rolling Along

NEW YORK (AP)—What looked like dismal seasons for Ted Williams and Stan Musial have developed into sparkling comeback campaigns for major league baseball's elder statesmen.

A month ago Musial was batting only .235. The seven-time National League batting king was a disconsolate member of the St. Louis bench and his ineffectiveness coupled with the reminder of his .255 average of 1959 led to rumors of his imminent retirement. At the same time, Williams was just returning to the Boston lineup following recovery from a leg injury and a virus.

Belies Age
Since then, however, they have been hitting at a pace that belies their 80 combined years. The 39-year-old Musial has lifted his average to .312 while Williams, 40, and an inconsistent .254 hitter last year, shows a .328 mark. The Red Sox Slugger is a six-time American League batting champ.

Neither of these respected veterans will accumulate enough total appearances this season to qualify for another batting title. Williams has had only 131 official at bats and Musial 157. However, both are adding to their impressive lifetime figures.

With 500 home runs, Williams needs only six to pass Mel Ott, the No. 3 man on the home run list. Musial Sunday moved ahead of Nap Lajoie and took over fifth place on the all-time total hits table with 3,252.

Mt. Pocono 31-4 Winners Over Barrett

MOUNT POCONO ran ruts in the base paths last night on their home diamond as they stroled to a 31-4 victory over Barrett in a North Pocono Mt. Little League game.

The winners collected 26 hits in the fray and notched tallies in every frame but the fourth. The game lasted for some two and a half hours.

Mt. Pocono hurled both Mike Hardy and Buddy Snyder over the former pitcher getting credit for the win.

Hardy lead the hitters also with a home run and two triples. Two other teammates, Bob Treon, with three doubles and Dave Steffenhaven, with two doubles aided the cause.

Barrett's Sopko aided the losers by blasting a triple as R. Noone spanked a double.

Barrett 0 3 0 0 1 0—4
Mt. Pocono 6 9 6 0 10 X—31

Musial Ups Hit Output

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Stan Musial of the St. Louis Cardinals tightened his clutch for a place in baseball's Hall of Fame even more Sunday with his 3,252nd major league hit. It put him in fifth place on the all-time hit roster, just ahead of Nap Lajoie.

Musial tied Lajoie with a single in the second inning of the second game of a doubleheader against Chicago and went ahead of the one-Chicago and went ahead of the one-star with another single in the fourth inning.

Giants Option Willie McCovey

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The San Francisco Giants Sunday optioned their 1959 rookies of the year Willie McCovey to their Tacoma farm club of the Pacific Coast League.

Giant Secretary Eddie Brannick said the first baseman's spot on the roster will not be filled immediately.

McCovey broke in July 30, last year against Robin Roberts, Philadelphia Phila. veteran, and collected two triples and two singles. He went on for a .354 batting average in 52 games with 13 homers and 38 runs batted in.

This season he batted .244 in 71 games. He committed costly errors in the field, and Saturday was booed loudly each time he came to bat.

Gordon also said Piersall would be fined $500 the next time he is ejected from a game by the umpire. Piersall has been ejected five times this season.

Piersall was benched in both games against Washington. He struck out on three pitches in the opener, and fled to center in the nightcap, also as a pinch-hitter.

Track Star Admits He's Snobbish

SASKATOON, Canada (AP)—Harry Jerome, who is the newest "fastest human" is a far different person than Harry Jerome, the 19-year-old Vancouver youngster.

Jerome has been called by other athletes egotistical, a snob, snooty, and aloof.

To an extent, the criticisms are true, Jerome admits it.

"When I'm in a track meet I'm not interested in standing around talking," he said in an interview. "No good runner can do that. If you do, you enter the race cold. I guess I give the impression of being hard to get along with."

He wasn't cold at the Canadian Olympic Track and Field Trials here. He ran the 100 meters in 10 seconds flat, breaking the recognized world mark by one-tenth of a second and becoming the second man in history to record a 10.0. Germany's Armin Hary awaits recognition of his 10.0, set last month, as a world standard.

He wasn't cold Saturday, either, when he broke the existing Canadian 200-meter mark of 21.4 with a 21.2.

Blue Ridge Company Put Out Automobile Fire

THE BLUE Ridge Hook and Ladder Company responded yesterday with three trucks to put out an automobile fire in Saylorsburg.

The car, a 1956 Buick century owned by Lloyd Neal of Saylorsburg, caught fire when Neal tried to start it. Neal surmised there was a short in the starter.

The three trucks and seven firemen arrived about ten minutes after the alarm was sounded, training the booster line hose on the flaming car.

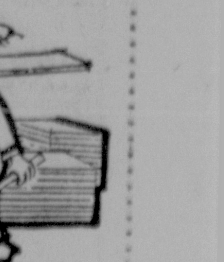

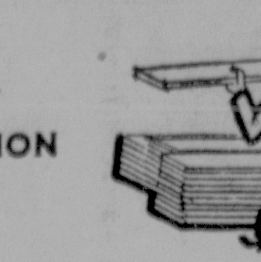

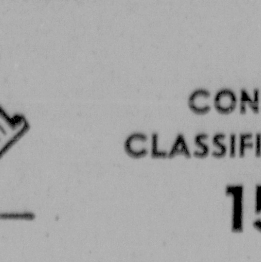

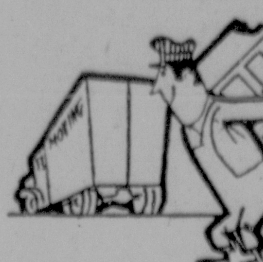

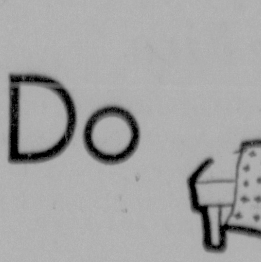

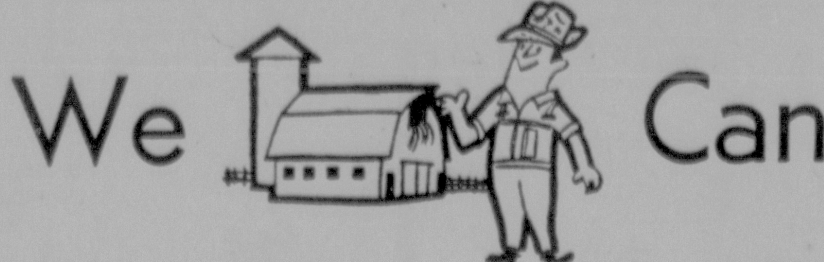

Willard Shoemaker, acting fire chief, estimated the damage to the car at about $500. Motor lines and everything under the dashboard was burned and the windshield had burst.

Johnson Welcomed

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP)—Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson, Democratic choice for vice president, took it easy yesterday after receiving a rousing welcome home last night from his central Texas neighbors.
